Seventh District "Moosers" Hold Convention.

With delegations present from all the counties of the district except Elliott and Oldham, the Seventh Congressional District "Bull Moose" convention met at the Fayette county court house in Lexington at noon yesterday and selected Henry T. Duncan, of Fayette county, and M. C. Rankin, of Henry, as district delegates, and Col. R. R. Perry, of Clark county and Theodore Blakey, of Lee, as alternates to the Chicago Convention; chose Captain John W. Throckmorton, of Fayette, Presidential elector, recommended Hon. Leslie Combs, of Fayette county and Hon. Brutus J. Clay, of Madison, as two of the four delegates from the State-at-large, to be chosen at Louisville tomorrow and adopted a set of resolutions enunciating practically all of the reforms for which Col. Roosevelt stands.

The contention was called to order by Provisional National Committeeman Leslie Combs who briefly outlined the purposes and plans of the new movement. Mr. C. H. Berryman was elected temporary chairman of the convention by acclamation which was followed by the selection of J. L. Earlywine, of Paris as temporary secretary. W. L. Yerkes, of Paris was appointed a member of the committee on resolutions and A. W. Cottingham was named as the delegate from Bourbon on the committee on organization. The temporary organization was then made permanent.

J. L. Earlywine, former postmaster of Paris, responded to a call for a speech and spoke for about twenty minutes, making one of the most stirring and effective speeches of the convention.

Those who attended the convention from this city were J. D. McClintock, Davis Hutchcraft, W. L. Yerkes, A. W. Cottingham, Henry May, Wm. White, Kiley Dotson, Frank Fithian, J. W. Larkin, W. J. Calvert, Lawrence Horton, Dan W. Peed, J. W. Bramblett and J. L. Earlywine.

Concrete Silos of Great Value.

Acting under the direction of Director M. A. Scovell, of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, A. J. Reed, the dairy specialist, has just published the following bulletin concerning the silo and its value to the dairyman:

"During the season of 1911 the College of Agriculture of the State University of Kentucky, in co-operation with the dairy division of the United States Department of Agriculture, has been active in promoting the building of silos and carrying on other dairy extension work throughout the State.

"Seven concrete silos were built and seven home-made silos set up, and repairs were made in several other cases. In addition fifteen other silos of various types were set up under the direction of the dairy division.

"All the silos proved satisfactory and especially valuable during the past severe winter. Everyone who built a silo has expressed himself as well pleased with it, and many intend to build additional silos this summer. More concrete silos are being built this season than last and they are proving economical to build, many farmers preferring them to the wooden types. A 12x32 foot concrete silo was built at Lebanon last year for a cash outlay of less than $150. At Somerset a concrete silo 16x40 was built at a total cost of $400.

It is expected that twenty-five or more concrete silos will have been built by the end of this season. About twenty of the wooden types are being built under the supervision of the dairy division, and in some cases have resulted in a saving of $50 to $100 each to the farmer. Farmers are availing themselves of this opportunity as evidenced by the great number of inquiries that are coming in all the time.

"The activity of the dairy extension work has not been confined to silo building alone, but plans have been furnished for a number of dairy barns. Five new barns were built complete last year, and seven were replanned and rebuilt, being changed from unsanitary, inconvenient arrangements to clean, convenient barns. In each case the supervisor visited the farm and made individual plans using existing conditions to the best advantage with the least expenditure of money. Just now there are five dairy barns being built and as many more being remodeled. Old tobacco barns are readily converted into dairies without much expense. The swing stanchions are generally used and concrete gutters and mangers are installed in almost every case. Where bedding is readily secured concrete floors are also used. In some cases cork brick or concrete blocks are used on the platform where the cows stand. In 1911 three new milk houses were built and plans for five others that are being built now were made."

In connection with the construction work, individual records are kept of 150 cows in eight different dairies. In one dairy of twenty-five cows it was found that the entire profit was $642 in one year, the best cow yielding only 24 pounds of butter fat, and the average being 200 pounds a year. One cow yielded 105 pounds of butter fat, which was not enough to pay her board. Another herd of eight cows profited $457 in a year, with the best cows yielding 322 pounds of butter fat, the herd average being 267 pounds. One dairyman milks and cares for 16 cows to get the same money that another milks 8 cows for.

"Wasteful feeding and inefficient cows lose years of hard labor and thousands of acres of good grain. The dairy expert of the university will show just for the asking, how large savings may be made each year, and dairy work will not all be heartless drudgery."

Local Company in Receiver's Hands.

Upon motion of Attorney E. J. Marshall, of Toledo, O., representing certain creditors the Bourbon Home Telephone Co., of Paris, was placed in the hands of a receiver, H. S. Heller, of Louisville, being appointed. The case was heard by Federal Judge Cochran, who held court in chambers. Judge Denis Dundon, of Paris, appeared for the defendant company. The amount involved is close to ten thousand dollars. The Bourbon Home Telephone Company, which was one of the first of the independent plants in operation in Kentucky, has according to reliable information, been operating at a loss for some time, incurring a heavy indebtedness, which resulted in the corporation being transferred to the hands of a receiver.

Railway Business For May.

For the month of May the net operating revenue of the railways declined five and five-tenths per cent. per mile of line as compared with May 1911, and that May 1911 was four and eight-tenths per cent. less than for May 1910. This is the salient fact of the monthly summary of the Bureau of Railway Economics, compiled from the reports of the railways to the Interstate Commerce Commission and embracing ninety per cent of the steam railway mileage of the country.

The operating revenues were $226,109,262, an increase of $7 per mile of line over May, 1911. The operating expenses were $161,368,677, an increase of $24.29 per mile of line, while the net operating revenue was $64,740,585, a decrease of $17.23 per mile of line. Taxes amounted for the month to $9,897,301, or $45 per mile, an increase of nine and two-tenths per cent.

The decrease in net operating revenue was most severe for the Eastern group of railways, amounting to eleven and nine-tenths per cent. For the Southern group it increased four-tenths of one per cent, and for the Western group less than one-tenth of one per cent. The aggregate of the net operating revenue for the eleven months of the fiscal year, and also for the five months of the calendar year, when measured per mile of line, shows a decrease in comparison with the corresponding periods of the previous year.

DEATHS.

DIDLAKE.

The funeral of Mr. C. F. Didlake, who died at his home in Oklahoma City, Okla., was held at the grave in the Paris cemetery Wednesday afternoon. The procession was headed by a number of the Knights Templar, and the hearse was followed by a long line of vehicles containing ex-confederate soldiers and friends. The body was accompanied to Paris by Mrs. Didlake and Mrs. Victor Shipp, and upon arrival Wednesday morning was taken to the home of Mr. Didlake's comrade, brother Sir Knight and friend, C. J. Clarke.

At the graves quartette composed of Mrs. Sutherland, Miss Hill, Mr. C. B. Mitchell and Mr. Albert Morehead, sang two beautiful selections, "Cast Thy Burden on The Lord," and "Thy Will Be Done." Rev. B. M. Shive offered a prayer and impressive committal services were rendered by the ex-Confederates and the Knights Templar. The ball-bearers were: Sir Knights C. J. Clarke, M. H. Davis, Frank Fithian, Joseph Ewalt, M. H. Dailey, and Dan Peed.
